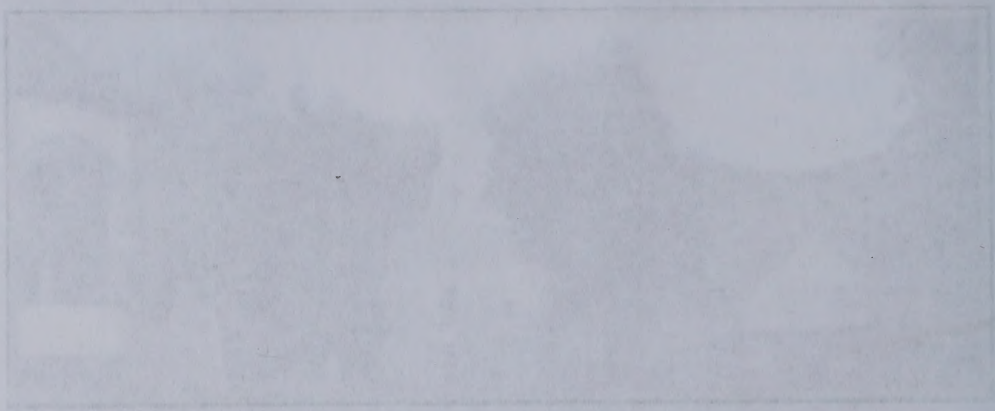
HINESBURG

Date of Charter ~ 21 June 1761
Villages & Communities Within:
Hinesburg, Mechanicsville, Rhode Island Corners.



New Hampshire grant of 23,040 acres to David and Zachariah Ferriss and sixty-two associates June 24, 1762.

Named for the first Town Clerk, Abel Hine.

"There is in the north part of the town a high ridge of rough land, called Prichard Mountain. The west part has generally a level surface, interspersed with small hillocks. In the eastern part the land is hilly and broken, containing, however, a good share of feasible, fertile and valuable land. The forest consisted of hard timber generally. There were some beaver meadows, one of which contained between 100 and 200 acres, from which the first settlers derived much benefit. The principal streams are Lewis Creek, Laplot River and Pond Brook. Lewis Creek enters the town from Monkton . . . on this stream, in the year 1790, Mr. Nathan Leavenworth, one of the early settlers, built a saw mill and a grist mill. This mill is in the bounds of Charlotte. Before it was built, the inhabitants were obliged to go to Winooski Falls, at Burlington, or to Vergennes, for their grinding . . . The first inhabitants were a Mr. Isaac Lawrenceand family, from Canaan, Connecticut, whose wife said that she lived ten months without seeing the face of any other woman, and that at one time the family lived for some time on dried pumpkins, without any other food whatsoever. This family came here before the revolutionary war, and also Mr. Daniel Chaffrey, who was here for a short time; they both left when the war commenced. Mr. Lawrence returned in 1783. Messrs. Jacob Meacham, Amos Andrews, and Hezekiah Tuttle, came in 1784. In 1785, Mr. George McEwen with his family, Mr. Eliphaz and George Steele came without families, and spent the summer. The first child born in town was a son of Jacob Meacham, on the first day of April, 1785; he was named Hine, in reference to the name of the town."

Gaspee Virtual Archives

Rufus Greene, Jr. (c1748-1831)

The Gaspee Days Committee at www.gaspee.COM is a civic-minded nonprofit organization that operates many community events in and around Pawtuxet Village, including the famous Gaspee Days Parade each June. These events are all designed to commemorate the 1772 burning of the hated British revenue schooner, HMS Gaspee, by Rhode Island patriots as America's 'First Blow for Freedom' ™. Our historical research center, the Gaspee Virtual Archives at www.gaspee.ORG , has presented these research notes as an attempt to gather further information on one who has been suspected of being associated with the the burning of the Gaspee. Please e-mail your comments or further questions to webmaster@gaspee.org.

Evidence implicating Rufus Green:

Per Staples <http://gaspee.org/StaplesGaspee.htm > p67 Rufus Greene gave testimony on January 1773 before the Royally appointed commission on the burning of the Gaspee how an officer of the Gaspee, one James Dundas, master of the Gaspee (misspelt Dundass in references), assaulted him on board the sloop Fortune, belonging to his family's business, Nathanael Greene & Co. It ws this assault of Dundas on Rufus Greene, and the seizure of the sloop that began the whole Gaspee affair, for this created much resentment by the colonists. On p76 Peter May, one of the crewmen of the Gaspee, gave testimony that it was the same Mr. Greene he saw on that vessel that was part of the attack on the Gaspee:

> "...one of which people was named Greene, whom he saw in the cabin of the Gaspee the day after they had seized a sloop, of which he appeared to be the owner and out of which he took some rakes; this deponent saith that the said Greene is a tall, slender man, wearing his own hair of a brown color."

Note that there were only two persons testifying before the commission on January 14, 1773, Rufus Greene and Aaron Briggs. It would have been easily discerned that Rufus had not come across Aaron during the attack, and someone (probably Darius Sessions) took pains to avoid Peter May and other Gaspee crewmen from testifying on the same day in order to prevent recognition of Greene during the depositions. The bulk of the Gaspee crew testified beginning two days later, on the 16th through the 19th of January.

We know that it was a Nathaniel Greene who was the owner of record of the Fortune and its cargo of 12 hogshead of rum that were seized by Dudingston and the Gaspee. But we also know that Nathanael Greene of 1742 denied having been a participant in the Gaspee affair when asked sometime after the Revolution had started. This Greene went on to become General George Washington's second-in-command during the later part of the Revolution. This famous Nathanael Greene, more often than not, has had his name misspelt. The proprietor of Nathaniel Greene & Co. could have been this Nathanael, but was more likely his father, Nathaniel born in 1707, who would've been the uncle of our Rufus Greene, Jr. We can probably assume that Peter May is not talking about Rufus' father, Rufus Greene, Sr born in 1712, since the suspect is described as having brown hair and the elder Rufus would've been 60 years old at the time. Our suspect, Rufus Greene, Jr. would've been 24 years old at the time of the Gaspee attack. For complete detals on this sideshow, see Bryant, SW, Rhode Island Justice-1772 Vintage, Rhode Island History, July 1967 26:3, pp65-71 which details the lawsuits the Greene family filed against Dudingston for the seizure of the cargo of rum.

Of interest though, we do present some 1773 quips of Nathanael Greene on the issue of the Royally-appointed investigatory commission on the burning of the Gaspee, from: Nathanael Greene: Strategist of the American Revolution by Theodore Thayer. New York: Twayne Publishers, 1960:

> When aroused, few in Rhode Island were as bold and outspoken as Nathanael Greene. The commission, he warned Sammy, had alarming implications for every "lover of Liberty in America." If this "Mode of Tryal is established into a Precedent it will naturally Affect all the other Colonies." The practice of offering large rewards for information concerning offenses against the Crown encouraged perjury and led to no end of mischief, he declared. Lord North's ministry, it appeared to him, was actually thirsting for "American blood." The Rhode Island Assembly, of which he was a member, was, in his opinion, weak and cowardly for not taking a stand against the illegal directives of Crown officials.

Biographical Notes:

According to the RI Historical Cemetery Database at http://www.rootsweb.com/~rigenweb/cemetery there are three Rufus Greenes listed, but none of the age suitable to have been involved in the Gaspee attack. He also doesn't show up in the 1790 census of Rhode Island on USGenWeb. This makes sense as we know Rufus Greene, Jr. died in New York.

<http://web.uvic.ca/~jlutz/howay1.html > (Link stale as of 2005) GREENWOOD.- An American ship of New York, commanded by Rufus Greene, which sailed from that city for the Northwest Coast in 1801. She is mentioned in E. B. Hewes, MS. Notes on American Vessels, but no reference to her has been found. This would have required a lengthy and dangerous trip around Cape Horn as there was no Panama Canal at the time. Since Rufus Greene was known to be in command of the sloop captured by the Gaspee in February 1772, we can assume that Rufus continued in his career on the sea.

Catherine Williams in her book, Biography of Revolutionary Heroes: Containing the Life of Brigadier Gen. William Barton and also of Captain Stephen Olney. Providence, Published by the author, 1839, p84 names a Captain Greene as captain of a RI privateer vessel during the Revolution.

Per The Patriot Resource <http://www.patriotresource.com/people/greene/page1.html > the Greene family were Quakers and owned a farm, grist mill, sawmill, ironworks, wharf, warehouse, dam, forge and anchorworks, as well as engaged in coastal trading.

The extended Greene family, for the most part, was concentarted in the Coventry-East Greenwich-North Kingstown area about twenty miles South of Providence. On the othe other hand, according to the 1770 List of Providence Taxpayers, James, Nathaniel, and Thomas Greene all held property in Providence at the time.

Alas, the Mrs. Rufus Greene portrait painted by famous artist Jonathan Copley does not appear to be the wife of our Rufus Greene, but rather one from Texas.

During a subsequent auction, his mansion-house, outbuildings, and over 50 acres of land were sold to pay off the debts. Martha ROUSSEL was born on 24 Jun 1716 in Dartmouth, Bristol, Massachusetts. She died on 30 Sep 1779 in East Greenwich, Kent, Rhode Island. She married Rufus GREENE on 13 Mar 1735 in Rhode Island.

They had the 14 children, including: Abraham Greene, Russell Greene, Phebe Greene, Mary Greene, Joseph Greene, Rufus Greene, William Greene, Caleb Greene, Charles Greene, Stephen Greene, Martha Greene, Jonathan Greene, David Greene, and Martha Greene

Rufus Jr. GREENE was born on 17 Mar 1748 (or 17 Jan 1747 according to some LDS files) in East Greenwich, Rhode Island. He died in 1831 in Houndsfield (v Haunsfield), New York. He married Margaret BUCKOUT (v Buckhart) on 10 Jul 1768 in Poughkeepsie, Dutchess, New York.

This is the Rufus Greene, Jr. of our concern. It is quite possible (and a common practice at the time) that Rufus Greene Sr and Martha Russell had a child born January 1747 who died shortly after birth, then named a subsequent child born in March of 1748 Rufus also. We admit to some confusion on his birth date. In either event, we know that its WAS Rufus Green, Jr (not Sr.) who burnt the Gaspee. In testimony in East Greenwich relative to the taking of the sloop Fortune in February 1772, he is identified specifically as Rufus Green, Jr. (Staples, p67).

Margaret BUCKOUT was born about 1745 in East Greenwich, Rhode Island. She died in Apr 1831 in Houndsfield, New York. She married Rufus Jr. GREENE on 10 Jul 1768 in Poughkeepsie, Dutchess, New York.

Rufus probably met her on a packet freighter trip to New York for his uncle's company. Martha was the daughter of one John Buckout, who originally hailed from RI.

They had the following children:

M i John GREENE was born in 1768. He died in 1837.

F ii Nancy GREENE was born on 20 Mar 1770.

F iii Phylotte GREENE was born on 20 May 1772. She died on 6 Jan 1866 in Salt Lake City, UT

M iv James GREENE was born in 1774.

M v Caleb GREENE was born in 1775.

According to Ancestry.com files, there was a Rufus Greene living in East Greenwich, RI in 1782 through 1830 which might or might not be our Rufus. Curiously, there is also listed a Rufus Green, Esq. also in 1782-1830, and a Rufus Greene, Jr. who first appears in the 1830 census. We do not find any Revolutionary War pension records for Rufus Greene, but that does not necessarily exclude him from such service. From the Providence Gazette of November 6, 1799, we discover an ad for a Rufus Greene, Bookseller and Stationer, who had his shop on the west end of the Great Bridge. In 1801 he had moved his shop next to Governor Fenner's Mansion. We also note in 1801 that the firm of Christopher C. Olney and Rufus Greene was dissolved. We also see that Rufus Greene, Jr & Company's correspondence containing a note of $300 to Eliphalet Robinson was stolen in a stage-coach robbery in September, 1829. We note that there was also a Rufus Greene of Boston, merchant.

From New York papers we see an ad throughout 1803 describing a paint pigment grinding and mixing machine, with ties to Rhode Island, and noting that a Rufus Greene was a druggist on 82 Maiden Lane in New York. In 1804 he entered with Francis Mariotte into the Firm of Greene & Mariotte, [v Mariette] distillers of fine cordials, a firm which was dissolved in 1809. In 1810 Rufus Greene and his wife, Eliza, had their buildings sold at auction. persuant to an order of the Court of Chancery. All in all, we tend to doubt any relationship between the Rufus Greene, New York druggist with Rufus Greene, Jr. of Poughkeepsie, NY.

No close relationships are yet established between Rufus Greene and other Gaspee raiders, but then, the attack on Rufus Greene and the Fortune started it all. According to www.whipple.org a William Greene married Welcome Arnold. The Welcome Arnold House is two doors down from the site of the old Sabin Tavern where the tactics to burn the Gaspee in 1772 were laid out. Another great source is

In 1801 he had moved his shop next to Governor Fenner's Mansion. We also note in 1801 that the firm of Christopher C. Olney and Rufus Greene was dissolved. We also see that Rufus Greene, Jr. & Company's correspondence containing a note of $300 to Ellisphilet Robinson was stolen in a stage-coach robbery in September, 1829. We note that there was also a Rufus Greene of Boston, mariner.

Rufus' New York papers we see as of about 1803 describing a paint pigment grinding and mixing machine, with ties to Rhode Island, and noting that a Rufus Greene was a druggist on 32 Maiden Lane in New York. In 1804 he entered with Francis Marbury into the Firm of Greene & Marbury, [y Marbury] distillers of fine cordials, a firm which was dissolved in 1809. In 1810 Rufus Greene and his wife, Ellen, had their buildings sold at auction pursuant to an order of the Court of Chancery. All in all, we tend to doubt any relationship between the Rufus Greene, New York druggist with Rufus Greene, Jr. of Poughkeepsie, NY.

No close relationship are yet established between Rufus Greene and other Greene indians, but then, the attack on Rufus Greene and the Gaspee started it all. According to www.ninfinder.org a William Greene married Wilcomb Carroll. The Welcome Arnold House is two doors down from the site of the old Sabin Tavern where the tactics to burn the Gaspee in 1772 were laid out. Another great source is <http://longislandgenealogy.com/greene/names3.htm#Greene (Stale link as of 2006)>. All said, we have no idea what happened to our Rufus Greene, Jr, after he moved to Poughkeepsie, NY.

Based on the above evidence, the Gaspee Days Committee recognizes Rufus Greene, Jr as one of the true American patriots that attacked the HMS Gaspee in 1772.

Early history of the town of Hopkinton : history of East Village (Nicholville) and vicinity, diaries of Elisha Risdon and Artemas Kent, soldiers of the Civil War, genealogical record of sixty of the pioneer families

IN this chapter is given the genealogical records of many of the pioneers of the town, of all that I have been able to gather sufficient data and information to make a fairly full record. The preparation of these records has required much time, labor, correspondence, persistence and patience. Had I had in the beginning a full comprehension of the tedious labor required, I now feel sure I should not have undertaken it. That there are some errors in dates and possibly a few in names I am quite satisfied, since considerable of my information came from elderly people who wrote feebly and indistinctly. I think it will be readily understood, if the reader will bear in mind that it is in continuous order; that the first, second, third and fourth generations are each carried slightly to the right, and that each generation always has the same indentation.

ARTEMAS KENT b. Dorset, Vt., August 31, 1788; d. August 21, 1877; m. Sally Wead of Hinesburg, Vt., December 10, 1818; d. April 21, 1842; m. 2d, Rhoda Winslow, in 1845; d. June 28, 1875. He left home October 12, 1809, and came by way of Utica and Black River, reaching Hopkinton, November 30. He bought the tract across the road from the Truman Post farm, and soon returned to Dorset. On February 27, 1810, he again set out with horse, cutter and some effects, reaching Esq. Laughlin's in eight days, where he remained till April 25, when he began chopping on his land. While at this he boarded with Reuben Post. Mr. Post bought the Post farm in 1808, and was then living there in the frame house still standing and used by the tenant. He cut fifteen acres at this time and worked by the day and job for others till November 1, when he returned to Dorset. In March, 1811, he and his brother Trussell set out with yoke of oxen, sled and some goods, reaching Hopkinton safely after a time. His brother, being sick, returned early in June, but he kept at work clearing his land till December, when he began school-keeping in the west district for three months. This was in the Caleb Wright district, and the first log schoolhouse stood just across the north road east from Mr. Wright's. When school was over he continued the clearing of his land till winter, when he took passage in Harwood's sleigh for Dorset. In January, 1812, he returned with horse and cutter and lived with Elisha Risdon. Mr. Risdon married Amanda Post in 1811, and at once moved into the log house, on Potsdam road, which his father-in-law, Reuben Post, bought of Joseph Armstrong with the "Post farm." This made Mr. Kent a tramp of nearly a mile across the fields from his farm to his boarding place. He taught the same school again till February 7, 1813, when he took

These sources were used for the following notes concerning research into the possible ancestry of Mary Leach's father, Rufus Greene:

Louise Brownell Clarke, EXCERPTS FROM THE GREENES OF RHODE ISLAND, compiled from MSS. of the late Major General George Sears Greene, USA (New York: 1903), pp. 214-219,

REPRESENTATIVE MEN AND OLD FAMILIES OF RHODE ISLAND, GenealogicalRecords and Historical Sketches of Prominent and Representative Citizens and of Many of the Old Families. . ., 3 v. (Chicago, J. H. Beers, 1908,), pp. 1282, 1283.

VITAL RECORDS OF RHODE ISLAND, "East Greenwich--Births & Deaths", p. 120.

NOTES: These notes concern Rufus Greene & Betsey Weed, parents of Mary C. Greene, wife of John Crum Leach. Rufus & Betsey were married in Hinesburg, Chittenden Co., VT, 30 August 1807. Rufus died 6/7 April 1847 in Hopkinton, St. Lawrence Co., NY, at age 60 from consumption. His birth year was about 1787. It was calculated from his age at the time of his death. Betsey Greene & two of her sons, Melville & Ira, were in Somers, Kneosha Co., WI, at the time of the 1850 census. [These compilers believe that John & Mary knew each other in NY; but to date, we have not been able to locate either John or Mary on the 1850 census.] Although we have researched Greenes in New York, Rhode Island, & Vermont, we have found no conclusive information about Rufus Greene's parents or siblings. [We believe, however, that he was possibly a descendant of Rufus Greene (Jabez, James, Surgeon John) of "E. Greenwich" & Martha, daughter of Joseph Russell, Jr., of Dartmouth, MA. Their children were Abraham, b. 2 Oct 1736; Russell, b. 9 1738/39, d. age 29 from drowning; Phebe, b. 20 Oct 1740; Mary, b. 20 Mar 1743; Joseph, b. 20 Mar 1745; Rufus, b. 17 Jan 1747; William, b. 13 Mar 1749; Caleb, b. 31 [sic] Jun 1751; Charles, b. 28 Jul 1753; Stephen, b. 16 Jan 1756; Martha, b. 20 Apr 1758, d. 30 Apr 1759; Jonathan & David, b. 16 Apr 1760; & Martha, b. 23 Jan 1763. The grandchildren of Rufus Greene & Martha Russell have been identified with the exception of the children born to Rufus, b. 1747, & his wife, Margaret, & William, b. 1749, & his wife, Mary Sheffield. Rufus & Margaret had a daughter, Nancy, b. 1770, in RI; but it is likely that Rufus & William moved to New York State before their other children were born.

Three other children of Rufus & Martha Greene lived &/or died in NY. Mary, wife of John Reynolds, moved to Hancock, Delaware Co., NY; Martha, wife of George Harris, moved to Stamford, Schoharie Co., NY; & David, a mariner, died in NY in 1792, his wife, Eunice Hopkins, died in Lawrence/Laurens, Otsego Co., NY, in 1836.

Was Rufus Greene, b. about 1787, husband of Betsey Weed, & father of Mary C. Greene, a son of either Rufus or William Greene? A suggestion of a possible relationship was provided when it was discovered that Jonathan, a younger brother of Rufus & William Greene, was a close neighbor of John Weed, Betsey Weed's father.

Early New York State vital records do not exist and Vermont records are incomplete; therefore, alternative sources of Greene vital information need to be found. Many questions need answers, but chance, just plain luck, & perseverance may play a part in finding answers to the Green ancestry. A look at census & other available records for Mary's siblings may prove helpful.

Although we have researched Greenes in New York, Rhode Island, & Vermont, we have found no conclusive information about Rufus Greene's parents or siblings. We believe, however, that he was possibly a descendant of Rufus Greene (Elder, James, Surgeon John of "E. Greenwich" & Magdy, daughter of Joseph Russell, Jr., of Dartmouth, MA. Their children were: Abraham, b. 2 Oct 1736; Russell, b. 9 [1738]; d. age 29 from drowning; Phebe, b. 20 Oct 1740; Mary, b. 31 Mar 1742; Joseph, b. 20 May 1745; Rufus, b. 17 Jan 1747; William, b. 13 May 1749; Caleb, b. 31 [illegible] Jan 1752; Charles, b. 22 Jul 1752; Stephen, b. 16 Jan 1756; Martha, b. 20 Apr 1758, d. 20 Apr 1759; Jonathan & Deyd, b. 16 Apr 1760; & Martha, b. 23 Jan 1762. The grandchildren of Rufus Greene & Martha Russell have been identified with the exception of the children born to Rufus, b. 1747, & his wife, Margaret, & William, b. 1749, & his wife, Mary Sheffield. Rufus & Margaret had a daughter, Nancy, b. 1770. In fact it is likely that Rufus & William moved to New York State before their other children were born.

Three other children of Rufus & Martha Greene lived & died in NY. Mary, wife of John Reynolds, moved to Hancock, Delaware Co., NY. Martha, wife of George Harris, moved to Stamford, Schoharie Co., NY. & David, a mariner, died in NY in 1792, his wife Eunice Hopkins, died in Lawrenceburg, Dearborn Co., IN, in 1834.

Was Rufus Greene, b. about 1727, husband of Betsey Weed, & father of Mary C. Greene, a son of either Rufus or William Greene? A suggestion of a possible relationship was provided when a was discovered that Jonathan, a younger brother of Rufus & William Greene, was a close neighbor of John Weed, Betsey Weed's father.

Early New York State vital records do not exist and Vermont records are incomplete, therefore, alternative sources of Greene vital information need to be found. Many questions need answers, but chance, just plain luck, & perseverance may play a part in finding answers to the Greene ancestry. A look at census & other available records for Mary's

I am looking for obituaries where possible and other relevant information concerning the names mentioned below.

David Leach, John Leach & Rufus Greene & family are mentioned in Sanford's book; "Early History of the Town of Hopkinton, New York".

*David Leach, b. about 1815, Waitsfield, Washington Co., VT, was on the 1840 census for Hopkinton, NY. He d. in or near Hopkinton about 1902. His death certificate gave his father's name as John Leach and his mother's name as Abigail Ellis. The 1880 census for Hopkinton gave David's age as 65, b. VT. Both his father and mother were born in NH according to the 1880 census.

David married Mary Smith about 1838-1840. Mary & her parents were all born in VT. They had 2 children, but it's possible that neither daughter had children. Ellen, age 35, was living with her parents in 1880. We believe that John Crum Leach was a younger brother of David. John was b. in 1827, so it's possible that there were other siblings.

*John Crum Leach, b. 8 April 1827, NY or VT; d. 12 August 1905, Havana, Sargent Co. ND. We believe that John migrated from Hopkinton to Somers, Kenosha Co., WI, where he married Mary C. Greene, daughter of Rufus Greene & Betsey Weed. {Sanford had the name of Rufus Greene's wife wrong, but we believe that the rest of his information is correct.}

John & Mary moved to Racine, WI, after many years in Somers. From there, they moved to Havana, Sargent County, ND, where their son, Edward John Leach, lived with his wife, Elizabeth King Leach.

{Sanford mentioned Havana, ND, in his early history of Hopkinton.} Havana is a tiny town in SE North Dakota. Sanford had to receive information from David or someone else from the Hopkinton area to have mentioned Havana in the book. I believe that Sanford's history stated that John Leach & Rufus Greene were neighbors. We believe that John Crum Leach & Mary C. Greene met each other in Hopkinton.

*John Leach, father of David, was probably b. about 1790 in NH. Census records for John Crum Leach showed that his father was born in NH. John Leach is not mentioned in the 1840 census, so he may have died before the census was taken. Rufus Greene & David Leach are listed on the same sheet on the 1840 census. When we were Hopkinton, we found a grave site in Parishville for John Leach. His grave marker had fallen over and was broken. I believe that the cemetery was on a hill, and as we entered the cemetery, his grave was on the right side. I believe a Brownell was buried in the same plot. There were others buried there, too. It has been at least 15 years since we were in Hopkinton, so my memory may be a bit hazy.

THE GREENES OF WARWICK, R. I.

IT is conceded by leading genealogists as strong presumptive evidence of the descent of the Warwick Greenes from the family of Northamptonshire, England, that Major John Greene, Deputy Governor of the Colony of Rhode Island, and son of the emigrant, John Greene, surgeon, should have used upon an official letter to England at an early date (1692) a seal with the arms of the Greenes of Boughton and Greene's Norton, Northamptonshire, the same arms being recorded in the Herald's College, (Somerby), as borne by Robert Greene of Gillingham, Dorsetshire, England, who was the great-grandfather of John Greene, surgeon, and from whom the records are unbroken.

Major Greene was well known in official life and was on several occasions sent as Agent of the Colony to England. The letter alluded to was of no special importance save for its seal. It was addressed to Sir Robert Southwell, Knight, one of the Secretaries of State to their Majesties' Privy Council, at Whitehall, London, bearing date December 21, 1692. It was sealed with red wax, having the impression of the Greene arms, and was sent to America about 1840 by Mr. Thompson of Liverpool to the President of the Rhode Island Historical Society, and was received in good condition.[1]

[1] Among General Greene's notes is the following: "Letter from John Greene, Dep. Gov., R. I., 21 Dec., 1692, to Hon. Sir Robert Southwell, Knight, one of the Secretaries of State to their Majesties' Privy Council, at Whitehall, London. This letter was received July 4, 1693. It was to introduce Christopher Almy, brother-in-law of John Greene, the writer of the letter. The letter was sealed with red wax and the plain impression of the arms, 3 bucks trippant, in perfect preservation when this letter was received from Mr. Thompson, of Liverpool, by the President of the Rhode Island Historical Society."

The following statement was received by the compiler under date, Providence, November 3, 1900:

"The record of the accession of the letter in question as made by the cabinet keeper in his annual report for July, 1840, reads as follows:

"'From Thomas Thompson, Liverpool,

"'Letter from Dep. Gov. John Greene to Robert Southwell, dated Newport, Dec. 21, 1692.'

General George Sears Greene carefully examined the seal and thus reported: "It bears a fair impression of the arms, three bucks trippant, but the colours are not distinct and it is without the crest,[1] which is not significant, the crest often being omitted from seals because it so much enlarged them." The following extract is from another letter written by him more than half a century ago, bearing date July, 1842: "Deputy Governor John Greene used a seal with the family Arms. The seal was small and the colours not designated, but the three bucks trippant were plain, and the crescent. The only grant which I have seen in the Heraldic books corresponding with this is that granted to a branch of the Greenes of Bristol, Eng., as a younger branch, which the crescent signifies, viz., 'Azure 3 bucks trippant or, attired or, with a crescent for difference; crest, a buck's head erased ermine attired or.' If this is the true coat of arms of our branch of Greenes, it was granted in the sixteenth century, before John Greene and his family left England. The name was of note in the fourteenth century, as appears from history and the Index to Chancery Cases published in Parliament."

At a later date, General Greene wrote: "The arms used by the Greenes of Rhode Island are those of the family of Sir Henry Greene of Boughton and Greene's Norton in Northamptonshire, and his descendants. Major John Greene, Dep. Gov. of R. I. and Agent of the Colony to the Home Government, was but fifteen years old when he came to this country with his father. He passed much of his time (later) in England in an official capacity and would have well known his people there and the Arms of his branch of the family and would not have used them unduly.[2] And other branches of the Greene family in the southern counties of England presented these arms at 'Visitations,' when they would not be used thus unless the persons entering their families at 'Visitations' had a right to wear them. Mr. Somerby, under all the circumstances which came to him, considered the point clear that the Greenes of Bowridge Hill in Gillingham, Dorsetshire, were of the Northamptonshire family. He made the positive connection of the emigrant, John Greene of Salisbury, Co. Wilts, with three generations before him in England."

The following extract is from Mr. Somerby's correspondence in 1866, which was in substance repeated in 1870:

[1] "A coat of arms without crest is rather the sign of an old family than otherwise" (Introduction to Armorial Families, by A. C. Fox-Davies).

[2] In the fifth year of the reign of Henry V., June 2, 1418, at New Sarum (Salisbury) ordered: "That no man of what state, degree or condition soever he be, shall take upon him such Arms or "Coats of Arms," save he alone who doth possesse or ought to possesse the same by the right of his ancestors or by donation and grant of someone who had sufficient power to assign him the same." (Fuller's Worthies in England, vol. ii.)
